Mrs Marshall's Messages:

Today, we held an assembly celebrating the joy of reading, and I'd like to share some exciting news!

Next Thursday is World Book Day! We encourage each child to bring in their favourite book or draw a scene/character from that book. This will allow them to share their love of reading with their friends.

Additionally, children may dress up as their favourite book character if they wish or dress in the PJ's and bring their favourite bedtime story. We hope this inspires excitement around reading!

Thank you for your support in promoting reading and phonics at home. Encouraging your child to use their phonics, share their book with you or discuss a passage can really enhance their understanding of a range of texts.

Should you have any questions about our World Book Day celebrations, please get in touch.

Happy reading!

This week's talking task:

TAKEHOME

26th February
– 2nd March

Why do we judge people based on their appearance?

British Values

Mutual Respect & Tolerance

We understand that each of us is unique. We all deserve to be respected and included, no matter our personal choices or how we choose to present ourselves.

Protected Characteristics

Stereotypes about how girls or boys 'should' look can lead to unfair questioning and treatment. We can stand up to these stereotypes so that everyone is treated fairly and with respect.

In the news this week

A girls' football team, in York, has launched a campaign called 'Girls can have short hair. Get Over It'. This was prompted by parents and coaches of opposition teams questioning whether all the players were girls, due to some having short hair. The team has received a positive response, with other young players, who have experienced similar situations, reaching out.

Things to talk about at home ...

- > Share your response to this week's news and your thoughts about the campaign. What changes do you think it hopes to bring?
- > Can you think of any other campaigns that have helped to bring about positive change? Ask someone at home if they can recall one too.
